

25

ST. CLOUD HOTEL

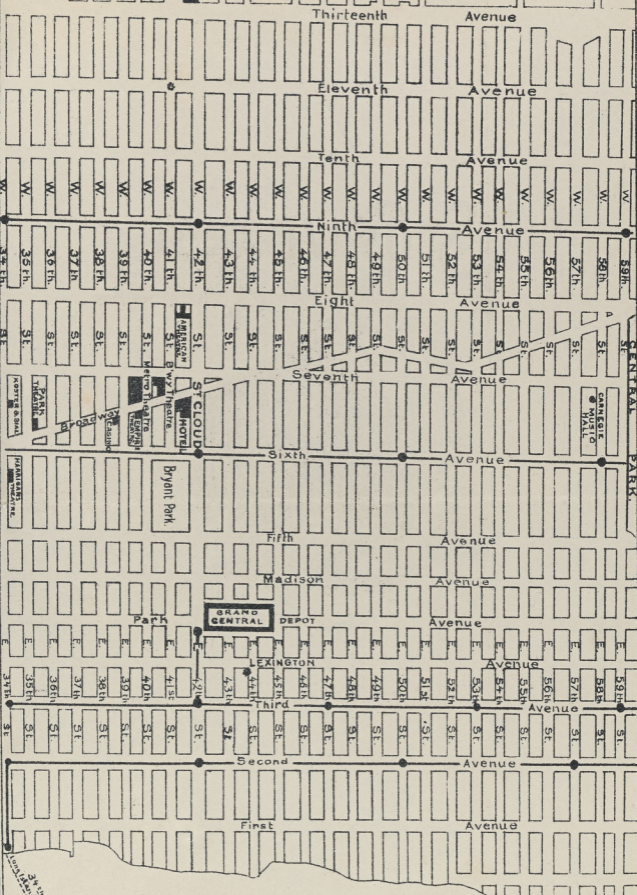

N. B. BARRY, Propr.

BROADWAY & 42ND ST.
NEW YORK.

HUDSON RIVER

NAVY YARD WESTERN R.M.
9th St
R.M.

EAST RIVER.

CLASSICS
28.625
895
899

Announcement.

The St. Cloud Hotel, 42 d. St. and Broadway,
New York, after thorough renovation, and entire new furniture, re-opened for the reception of guests, September 20th. 1893.

All modern improvements, new boilers and steam heating plant, electric light plant, ice freezing machine, electric bells, baths, and water closets, and in fact everything for the comfort and convenience of patrons has been carefully studied and added. The entire plumbing and sewerage system has been removed and the most modern and perfect sanitary system adopted.

The hotel is most centrally located in the heart of the theatre district, within three blocks of Grand Central Depot, and four blocks from the West Shore R.R., one half block from 6th Avenue Elevated R.R. station, and with five lines of horse and cable cars passing the door, which will take you to the most remote part of the City in twenty minutes.

European Plan.
Rooms $1.00 and upwards.
" with Bath $2.50 and upwards.
Baggage delivered free to, or from Grand Cent. & West Shore Dep'ts if by our own conveyance.

N. B. Barry, Prop.
19 years Proprietor
Hotel Glenham, 5th Ave.
N. Y.

Extra Announcement.

On December 1st 1894 was opened, a new fire proof wing, connecting with the St Cloud Hotel, and running through to 41st Street.

First floor, is adapted for balls, musicals, or dinner parties.